RGA's policy manager Rachel Kelly elected to the board of NSWIC

Ricegrowers' Association policy manager Rachel Kelly of Moama has been appointed to the Board of the State's premier irrigation advocacy body.

Ms Kelly is from an irrigation farming family and has interests with her partner Antony Vagg who she will marry Friday (Nov 9). Rachel has a Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of Commerce (Business Management) from the University of Canberra and is a graduate of the Australian Rural Leadership Program.

NSW Irrigators' Council retiring chairman Richard Stott who is stepping down after his 7th year said Rachel's appointment is recognition of her extensive knowledge of water policy and her commitment to the industry's future.

She was one of four new candidates elected to the board of NSWIC at its annual general meeting in Sydney today (Wed 7/11) the others being Brendan Barry of Murrumbidgee Private Irrigators, Jim Cush (chair) of Gwydir Valley Irrigators Association and Tim Napier (deputy chair) of Border Rivers Food and Fibre.

Congratulations Rachel!
